Corinth Nurseries

G. W. STRICKLAND, Proprietor

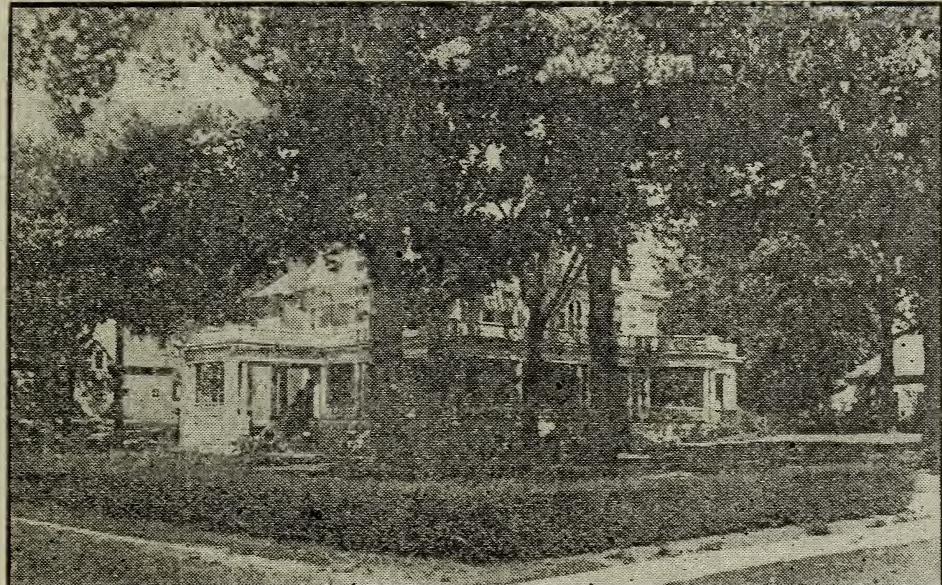

Grower of

General Nursery Stock

CORINTH, MISS.

1920

You will notice the 1,000 feet of Armor River Privet, which is a perfect ever-green all winter. I planted this hedge April 1st. to 10th. 1913, at that time this house was the property of Mr. G. A. Hazard, but since that time he has presented it to his sister Miss Myra. (Would you like a gift like it?)

TO MY CUSTOMERS

Another year has passed since the last issue of my catalogue. It is a pleasure to present it to my customers. Thanks to you, my last season's business was the best I have ever enjoyed and I look forward to the coming one in anticipation of renewing old acquaintances as well as establishing new, and to all I promise the same service that has been obtained in the past.

The stock I am offering this season is not excelled in quality by any Nursery on the globe. I would like to receive inquires for stock needed whether shown herein or not, and if it can be found I will secure it for you, for less than you can get it yourself.

I will start shipping as soon as the first heavy frost, which is usually in November and will continue all fall and winter until April.

I also have a first-class Landscape Gardener and I will take great interest in landscape work this season, and would like to hear from any of my customers that wishes landscape work done.

Yours truly,

THE CORINTH NURSERIES.

Order your trees direct from the nursery and get what you buy. If your neighbor comes to you for "club orders," that is alright, but see that you get the trees at the same price as quoted in this list.

I will do all necessary pruning before shipping if wanted.

This certificate expires August 31, 1917. Dated Agricultural College, Miss., September 22, 1916. R. W. Harned, Entomologist, Miss. Agr. Expt. Station.
